

Volunteering With Adult Literacy Sites

Below is a list of adult literacy service providers with whom we work that seek volunteers. Some volunteer roles they may currently need to fill are classroom assistants, student tutors, office assistants, guest speakers on particular topics of interest to students (i.e. professions and higher education opportunities), special events coordinators and public relations promoters through social media. Please feel free to share this information with anyone who may be interested!

You can also find all local adult literacy providers listed on our website at: www.gbrliteracy.org/providerdirectory.asp. On the Google map at that link, you can see where they are located, in relation to one another.

In response to those that contact GBRLC about volunteering with adult literacy services, they are welcome to contact any of the literacy sites directly to ask about opportunities. Or, I can send interested volunteers' email addresses, mailing addresses or phone numbers to the contacts at the seven sites listed above, and after the interested volunteers receive sites' volunteer information, they can respond to the programs that best suit their schedules and interests.

Also, if interested volunteers have specific volunteer interests that cannot be accommodated through one of the literacy sites above, I am happy to talk with them about volunteer roles directly with Greater Baton Rouge Literacy Coalition.

We appreciate your interest and enthusiasm in support of local adult literacy services, and we look forward to talking with anyone you may refer to us that wants to volunteer!
